CASTIGLIONI CHIANTI DOCG 2009

WINE ORBIT

Sam Kim, July 2011

91 Points & 4.5 Stars

A classic expression of Chianti, displaying fragrant aromas of red/black cherry, game, spice and mixed nuts. The palate is ripe and silky, and well supported by lovely fruit intensity, then finishes firm and gently drying, as a good Chianti should. At its best: now to 2014.

"This week's treat"

This wine picks up where 'Primo' left off with its dark savoury 'drink-me-now' flavours revealing a more typically Italian red. It's made by the Frescobaldi family in Tuscany, whose wines have just this year reappeared in New Zealand, thanks to importers EuroVintage.
