WOODTHORPE GAMAY NOIR 2010

THE DOMINION POST, WARREN BARTONS CHRISTMAS WINE GUIDE 2010

Warren Barton, December 2010

Oz Clarke got it right when he said of this wine: "Just like Beaujolais should be." It is certainly meatier than most to which it is compared. A soft and vibrantly fruity bottle of Hawke's Bay on a summer's day.

THE NEW ZEALAND HERALD

Rebecca Gibb, November 2010

New Zealand's answer to beaujolais. Vivid pink with classic gamay blue tint. Attractive boiled sweet, raspberry and banana skin aromas and appetising acidity. Best slightly chilled on a summer's day.

BAY OF PLENTY TIMES

Yvonne Lorkin, December 2010

This beaujolais-style red has bright raspberry and tangy rhubarb notes rounded out by a few months in old barrels to give it a juicy weight in the mouth - it's the perfect light red for summer picnics.

MICHAEL COOPER'S BUYER'S GUIDE 2011

3.5 Stars

Ruby-hued, it is floral and supple, with cherry and plum flavours, fresh and lively, and a touch of nutty complexity. It's already drinking well.
