PINOT GRIS 2010

THE LISTENER

Pegasus Bay's bargain-priced wine was grown at Waipara and fermented in old French oak barriques. Fleshy and rich with a gentle splash of sweetness, it has concentrated flavours of peaches, lychees and spices, woven with fresh acidity and plenty of drinkyoung charm.

A very tasty style which appeals straight away; serious yet flavoursome and very approachable immediately. Barrel ageing and some lees contact have clearly added heaps to a positive fruit character. Looks good. Ready, no hurry.

Hard to go wrong with wine from Pegasus Bay and this Main Divide Pinot Gris is another winner. ... chocked full of sweet and juicy pears and peaches combined in an oily texture with refreshing acidity..
