

PETRIE CHARDONNAY 2009

CUISINE MAGAZINE

May 2011

95/100

The fruit for this wine which is one of two single-vineyard Chardonnays made by Ata Rangi, was grown several kilometres to the north of Martinborough. It shows considerable heft, the citrus and melon-infused fruit backed up by attractive, integrated oak.

AUSTRALIA GOURMET WINE TRAVELLER

Bob Campbell, May 2011

95/100 & 5 Stars

Attractive wine that punches well above its weight. Subtle grapefruit, white peach and nectarine flavours flattered with a lovely biscuity character from oak and yeast lees influence. Very linear and long with a silken texture.
