A pleasingly different take on NZ Sauvignon, notes of sweet garden pea, rhubarb & ash mix with grapefruit & a saline hint.

With ripe green fruits (kiwi, melon) with an underlying minerality (suggestions of coal and riverstones) and a hint of toasted nuts filling out the palate, this Waiheke Island wine is crisp and textural.

A delicious medley of ripe tree and tropical fruit flavours supported by fresh, fruity acidity. Very appealing Sauvignon Blanc in a fairly unique style. Will appeal to those who like the flavour of Sauvignon Blanc but don't like the high acidity. Dry-ish and nicely balanced with a lingering finish.
